

MRS. RALPH CHASE SECRETLY PARTED FROM POLO PLAYER

Couple Prominent on Coast and Residents of Orange,
N. J., Divorced.

(Special to The Evening World.)
LOS ANGELES, June 17.—Mrs. Ralph Waldo Chase of Orange, N. J., one of the Coast's most prominent society women and intimate friend of Mrs. Claus Spreckels, is on her way home via the Panama Canal following a secret divorce at San Diego on April 27. She received her decree on the grounds of cruelty, alleging that her husband, a well-known poloist, often shook her. No alimony was asked and the custody of the daughter, now with Mrs. Chase on her way to New York, is left undetermined so far as court records show. The couple came here from Farmington, Conn. Mr. Chase is now at his lodge near Santa Fe, N. M.

An entry list of between 550 and 600 is indicated for the National A. A. U. championships at Pasadena next month. The New York contingent is understood here to be leaving on Sunday, the first to get away for California.

Ota Cygi is planning to return to New York to produce more plays in conjunction with H. A. Woods, following the conclusion of his violin concert tour here this week. His wife is to remain here at her father's home.

Isador Jacobs, a Brooklyn produce merchant, is mysteriously missing, at Long Beach near here, three hours after his arrival there on his honeymoon from New York. He had $2,000 cash on his person when last seen. Suicide or murder for money is the police theory.

Barbara Castleton, a screen beauty who rumor said would marry William Mack, is seeking a divorce here from George W. Zimmerman, a Vancouver B. C. attorney, upon the ground that life was just one bill collector after another.

Knute Erickson of New York contributed comedy songs at a benefit here for disabled World War veterans, given by the Palm Hall School for Girls.

Reginald Barker, a film play director and who was Henry Miller's stage manager in New York at the age of nineteen, is to go into business here as an independent picture producer.

Miss Claire Yates of Glen Ridge, N. J., was honor guest at a dinner here by Miss Mary Louise Call in Lucerne Boulevard.

Irene Franklin, the Greenwich Village Follies star next season, is held up here by the illness of her husband, Burt Green.

New Yorkers at leading hotels here include: At the Savoy—T. F. Gallagher, Mrs. Henry D. Hotchkiss, Mrs. F. S. Hotchkiss, Miss Florence Hotchkiss, Henry Hotchkiss, Miss Ida Wahlstrom. At the Alexandria—A. A. Furth, G. M. Sanders, T. W. Adler.

The arrival here from New York of the super-dreadnaught Tennessee is followed by the report of a general naval reorganization, with all coal-burning ships stationed in the Atlantic and all oil-burners kept in Pacific waters.

The third matrimonial ship of Robert David Bonell, Western manager of a theatrical magazine, has hit the divorce court rocks here. The granddaughter of Prof. Lowe, the famous founder of Mount Lowe Observatory, brings the suit. His first wife, Jeanette, obtained a divorce in New York Sept. 26, 1918. The complaint asserts he is not yet legally free of his second wife.

Seven carloads of Imperial Valley cantaloupes, destined for delivery at the Erie Railroad pier in New York, have left on a refrigeration test trip across the continent. New York is the biggest market this year, at $1.75 to $2 per crate for the standard stock.

Mrs. David Brainerd Perry of New York, the guest here for some time of Mrs. Gordon W. Wattles, is going to Coronado for an indefinite stay. Clayton Hamilton has obtained an extension of leave of absence from Columbia University, where he is a drama authority, to continue film picture work here.

William E. Mason, Illinois Representative, is Dead.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Representative William E. Mason of Illinois is dead here from heart trouble. He was seventy-one years old and formerly was a member of the Senate. He was born in Frankville, Cattaraugus County, N. Y. After studying law he moved to Chicago, where he was admitted to the bar in 1872. In 1873 he was married to Miss Edith White of Des Moines.
